

Jane Moran

Partner + Chief Learning Officer

EMNL, B.A.Com, RPCC

Jane is co-founder of Noesis Learning. She is an Executive Coach with 20 years' experience coaching leaders at all levels, from Fortune 500 companies to government agencies and non-profit organizations, spanning Canada, the US, Australia, England and Asia.

A dynamic facilitator and curriculum architect, Jane's passion is the science of leadership. Her vast experience bringing impactful brain-based learning to organizations has changed the way people think and work in highly complex environments.

Drawing on her experience building leadership development frameworks in multiple industries, Jane has the cultural and operational savvy to distill scientific research into simple and relevant human interaction tools. She specializes in the design, operationalization and integration of leadership programming that is easily integrated into busy workplace environments, providing practical support to leaders facing everyday change and organization-wide transformation initiatives.

As a published speaker with a degree in Communication and an Executive Master's Degree in the Neuroscience of Leadership, Jane's repertoire of insights, approaches and content spur busy, intelligent people into inspired action. Her practical approaches transform leader behaviors so people can embrace change, ramp up collaboration and focus, think and innovate optimally. The result is a socially intelligent workplace environment where everyone's (brain) needs are met.
